Fortunately there is a solution...

Coolmation Service Ltd has been working closely in the UK with global refrigerant manufacturer DuPont, who have developed a new refrigerant to replace R22 in water chillers.

The new ISCEON® MO99 has undergone laboratory and global field testing and is already in use in Coolmation's chiller hire fleet.

Unlike some other products ISCEON® MO99 is a direct replacement refrigerant requiring minimal engineering work and in most cases no change of lubricant. Very close to the cooling capacity and energy performance of R22, it provides a more effective replacement than alternative refrigerants on the market.

When you consider that every single R22 chiller installed in HVAC and Industrial applications around the UK, will have to be converted or replaced within the next 6 years, you can see why demand for these services is on the increase. And that's assuming the legislation doesn't get even tougher!

Our Skills

Few companies so far have the qualifications, approval and licensing to carry out these conversions, so leaving it till the last minute is likely to cost you more money!

Service4Chillers provides a safe, specialist refrigerant replacement service nationwide.

From planning, through to implementation and ongoing service and maintenance Service4Chillers can increase your chillers' lifespan and ensure ongoing conformity with current legislation.

Coolmation Service Ltd is an ISO9001:2000 and 14001 accredited company, REFCOM approved and all members of the service team are ACRIB certified and licensed.
